ROCK GOSPEL TEMPTS THE FATES

It may be Friday the 13th, but it should be a day which will end on a resoundingly happy and positive note. Rock Gospel will be performing in the College Auditorium on Friday evening at 8 p.m.

The program will include many popular Rock Gospel favorites plus a whole new group of songs especially prepared for the holiday season.

Tickets are $3 for general admission and $1.50 for students and can be purchased at the Auditorium box office on December 11 and 12, from 2-5 p.m., and on December 13, from 2-8 p.m.

QUOTA ACTS TO "SHATTER SILENCE"

At its board meeting last week in Washington, D.C., Quota International reaffirmed its goal to assist the hearing and speech impaired. As an international organization of professional women with chapters in the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, Quota launched a very successful program during 1974 to increase public awareness of the meaning of deafness. More than 105 clubs reported newspaper, television and radio coverage.

Quota's 1975 unified service project will work to remove communication barriers in a number of ways. Among them are:

- ...urging public agencies to make their services more accessible through TTY installation
- ...supporting and attending sign language classes in members' communities
- ...promoting the use of captioned and interpreted TV programs
- ...and utilizing local television stations to promote the understanding of deafness through Quota sponsored programs to educate the public about deafness.

In conjunction with its aims and activities, it was voted at the 1974 Quota Convention that beginning with the 1975-76 academic year recipients of support through the Quota International Fellowship Fund will be students at Gallaudet College who are preparing to work with the deaf.

As part of its meeting last week, Quota board members and district governors visited Gallaudet College on Saturday. Several members of the College community -- Lottie Riekehof, Edna Adler and Marilyn Galloway -- became Quotarians on Thursday following the chartering of a Washington, D.C., chapter.

CORRECTIONS CONCERNING CAID CONVENTION

As we have learned that the information we were given regarding the CAID convention theme and workshop topics, which appeared in last week's ON THE GREEN, was not totally correct, the correct information is as follows:

The theme of the 47th Biennial Meeting of the Convention of American Instructors of the Deaf to be held June 22-27, in Greensboro, N.C., will be "Our Learning Society - Issues and Trends in the Education of the Deaf."

The program will be subdivided into four topics related to the central theme. The topics and topic coordinators are:

1. "The Learners: Where They Are and How They Got There." - Dr. Frances Solano, St. Francis DeSalles School for the Deaf, 260 Eastern Pkwy., Brooklyn, N.Y.
2. "The Learners: Their Needs" - Dr. Edgar Lowell, John Tracy Clinic, 806 W. Adams Blvd., Los Angeles, Ca.
3. "The Learners' Teacher Learns" - Dr. Barbara Beggs, Director of Preparation

Program, Education of the Deaf, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

4. "The Learners Participating in a Learning Society" - Dr. Larry Stewart, College of Education, University of Arizona, Tuscon, Ariz.

For further information, please contact Robert Davila, president-elect of CAID.

AROUND AND ABOUT

--Do you have toys and clothing? The Great Oaks Retardation Center can put these items to good use. The center is open seven days a week and bundles can be left at the receptionist's desk. The center is located on Cherry Hill Road, Silver Spring, Md. For more information call Carol Tyron in the Counseling Center.

--The Student Union Building Council sponsored a Christmas party for 30 mentally retarded children from Forest Haven School on Thursday evening in the main lounge.
